March: Celebrating Women’s History & Welcoming Spring

This month, our school community proudly celebrated Women’s History Month by honoring the achievements and lasting impact of women leaders, innovators, and change-makers. Through classroom learning and meaningful discussions, students reflected on the importance of resilience, equity, and leadership. As we welcomed the arrival of spring, we embraced this season of growth and renewal in both our learning and our community. These experiences reminded us of the power of perseverance, respect, and opportunity in creating a school where everyone feels valued and inspired. In the spirit of spring, we encourage students to “clean out” old habits and make room for positive choices. At MCS, we continue to support students in building strong, healthy friendships rooted in kindness and respect, while also emphasizing the importance of being mindful of their online presence and how their words and actions reflect who they are.

Learning Beyond the Classroom: Natural History Museum Trip

Our middle school students enjoyed an exciting spring field trip to the Natural History Museum, where learning came to life beyond the classroom. As they explored exhibits on ancient civilizations, ecosystems, and prehistoric life, students deepened their understanding through hands-on experiences and observation. This trip not only enriched their science and history studies but also sparked curiosity and appreciation for the natural world, making it a memorable and meaningful part of their spring learning.

Marching Through the ABCs: A Letter Celebration

Our elementary students brought energy and excitement to our ABC Parade, celebrating literacy in a fun and meaningful way this spring. Students proudly showcased their learning while reinforcing letter recognition and early reading skills. This joyful event highlighted creativity, confidence, and a love of learning, making it a memorable way to welcome the season while strengthening foundational literacy skills.

Community Voices: Insights & Reflections from our Lion Pride

“MCS provides a small, supportive community where students are encouraged to reach their goals and beyond by dedicated teachers and staff.” -MCSII School Counselor

“What Makes MCS Special? We ignite curiosity beyond textbooks through hands-on exploration where every child is known, valued, and challenged. Academic excellence meets joy in learning within a supportive community.” -MCSI Principal
